AF Plane Crashes; 8 Aboard Assures Them Of U.S. Aid

Bringing Goods For A-Bomb Hunt

PALOMARES BEACH, Spain (AP)—Air and ground searchers today located the wreckage of a U.S. Air Force Globemaster with eight Americans aboard a plane which crashed while delivering material for the search for the U.S. nuclear bomb missing off the coast of Spain.

A U.S. spokesman said the wreckage was sighted six miles northwest of the village of Trevelez, on the snow-covered slopes of 11,423-foot Pico Mulhacen, in the Sierra Nevada Mountains.

There was no mention of survivors.

Gas-Primed Fire Kills Partner Of Detective

CHICAGO (AP)—The private life of a Chicago vice detective today was under investigation to day as officials tried to learn why his business partner was killed in a fire which leveled the detective's Indiana cottage.

Police said the detective, Bernard Kay, 38, was under sedation in his Chicago home after suffering an ulcer attack. They said they would question him as soon as possible about the gasoline-primed fire at his summer cottage in Koonitz Lake, Ind.

Emil Esposito, 49, Chicago co-owner with Kay of the K & E Auto Sales Co., a used-car lot, died in the fire.

Investigators said they had learned that Esposito and Kay quarreled about the business three hours before the fire.

A third man, John Griffin, 31, Chicago, was admitted to Roseland Community Hospital in Chicago two hours after the fire suffering from severe burns on the arms and legs. He told police he had been burned at Koonitz Lake but refused to answer other questions.

He was charged with arson by Indiana authorities and put under police guard.

Kay, who owned the $35,000 cottage, was on duty at the Kensington police district at the time of the fire.

Police said Esposito had an arrest record dating to 1935. He had been arrested for receiving stolen goods, burglary and tampering with autos, they said.

His body was found lying face down in the living room of the cottage.

Sheriff's deputies found four 5-gallon gasoline cans inside the cottage. Two of them stuffed with rag wicks.

Menard Experiments With Fewer Guards

CHESTER, Ill. (AP)—Menard State Penitentiary has reported a successful experiment that puts honor farm inmates (their own) under few security regulations and fewer guards.

Menard allowed some trustees in November to move from their guard-patrolled dormitories into a relatively unsupervised multi-burn they had remodeled.

Warden Max P. Frye said none of more than 40 trustees enrolled in the project has failed to obey the rule that the convicts report their whereabouts from time to time.

"Except for two guards who check them a couple of times a night and a guard who investigates their daily work assignments, there is nothing to keep the inmates from roaming the 1,600-acre prison," he said.

"The program runs on an honor system. The men eat at a main dining hall, but otherwise are very much on their own running their own dormitory," Frye said.

The trustees slept on the first floor of the remodeled barn without guards. The hayloft has (AP)—Vice President Hubert H. Humphrey flew from Bangkok to Laos for a brief visit today and told the Laotians he had come to reassure them of his government's pledge "to work with you in developing your resources."

Humphrey flew across the Mekong River from Thailand after making an aerial inspection tour of eight projects including sites for a huge power dam to serve both Laos and Thailand and a Mekong dam that will create a giant lake for irrigation.

These are the kinds of projects contemplated under President Johnson's Southeast Asia development concept.

Before reaching Laos, Humphrey told a reporter he also wanted to reassure Premier Souvanna Phouma and other Laotian leaders that the United States intends to remain firm against Communist encroachment in Southeast Asia.

Laos was the third country Humphrey has visited on his nine-nation tour.

Humphrey let the Laotians know the United States is not trying to draw their Communist.

Couple Disarms Cop, Sets Off Speeding Chase

CHICAGO (AP)—A couple that a policeman stopped for questioning disarmed and kidnapped him today, setting off a high speed pursuit in which at least 25 police squads unsuccessfully sought to overtake them.

Patrolman Charles Traub leaped from the car on the North Side and the couple, with the woman at the wheel, escaped.

Police said the woman may have been wounded by shots fired by her male companion as Traub fled their car.

Traub said he and his partner, Edward Shipley, stopped the couple's car when they recognized their car and directed them to a district station, with Shipley following in the squad car.

Near the station, the man produced a pistol and disarmed Traub as the woman raced ahead at high speed. Shipley followed and called by radio for other squads to join the chase.

When the woman slowed to make a turn, Traub leaped from the car.

Police later found the car, reported stolen in Texas.

A witness believed to have seen the kidnappers told police the woman had blood stains on her left leg.

been converted into a recreation room with a ping pong table and a television set.

Their prison occupations include farm work and vehicle maintenance. They work a five-day week.

"Unlike being inside the walls, you can look two blocks without seeing a wall or fence," said one of the trustees, who is serving a term for manslaughter. "You don't have that security tension."

Another trustee, serving a murder sentence, said the new freedom gave him an odd feeling at first. "But out here you feel a step closer to society by being put on your own," he added.

The project was designed a year ago as a rehabilitation test by former Menard Warden Ross V. Randolph, now state safety director. He said it was designed to stimulate the inmate's thinking and help him prepare for social responsibility.

It is similar to programs at the state's new minimum security prison near Vienna, and reflects modern penal theories tested at the federal penitentiary near Marion.

Domingo Smells Of Disaster

By ROBERT BERRELLEZ
SANTO DOMINGO, Dominican Republic (AP)—The quiet and smell of disaster, so familiar at the height of last April's Dominican revolution, pervades the heart of Santo Domingo.

Streets get dirtier and emptier, people seem angrier, shuttered homes even more hostile and quivers of apprehension increase as one drives from the western part of the city toward the downtown sector.

Plumes of dirty gray smoke give off an acrid smell as they rise from burning mounds of garbage uncollected for weeks. Many people are in black—some mourning lost ones, others the occupation of the city by foreign troops.

Gunfire crackles sporadically here and there in the old part of town laid out 470 years ago. Amid the carnage of disorder and hate, authority seems an anachronism.

The old rebel enclave has been restored in spirit, if not in actual form. Mounting resistance to the country's military leaders is finding its most eloquent expression in the 20-square-block area where for four months last year rebel

Charge 2 Men Robbed Cafe, Kidnaped Woman

JACKSON, Mo. (AP)—Two men were arrested here early today after allegedly robbing a Fostus, Mo., cafe and taking a waitress hostage.

The highway patrol said Dennis F. Lindsey, 19, Bonne Terre, and Thomas L. Stricklin, 21, Flat River, were booked at the Jackson City Jail on charges of armed robbery and kidnapping.

They were being held for the $255 robbery late Sunday of the Summit Cafe on U.S. 67 south of Festus and the abduction of a 21-year-old waitress.

The woman, mother of a 2-year-old child, said she was raped by one of the men.

The woman was released 90 minutes after the robbery near Knobloch. Shortly after telephoning police, a highway patrol trooper and two Jackson policemen saw a car fitting the description she gave and arrested Lindsey and Stricklin.

Troopers said the $255 taken from Ralph Kroedinger, 29, of rural De Soto, the cafe owner, and a pistol were recovered from the car. Kroedinger and another employee, Kenneth Rhyne, 17, of rural De Soto, were forced to lie on the floor while the robbers escaped.

RELUCTANT GROOM

SALETERNO, Italy (AP)—The priest asked Antonio Naddeo, 28, Sunday whether he would take Concetta Savarese, also 28, in holy matrimony.

"Excuse me, I wasn't listening," said Antonio.

The priest repeated his question. "I don't want her," Antonio replied and walked out of the church.

Concetta fainted.

Distraught relatives revived her and persuaded Antonio to return to the altar.

The priest put the question again. Antonio sighed and said, "Yes."

Mrs. Mossler Stricken As Con Testifies

MIAMI, Fla. (AP)—Candace Mossler became ill at her first-degree murder trial today while an Arkansas State Penitentiary convict was testifying that he received a bid in 1962 to kidnap and kill her husband.

The trial of Mrs. Mossler and her nephew, Melvin Lane Powers, was recessed until afternoon.

It was the fourth time since the trial began a month ago that Mrs. Mossler had been stricken by nausea and migraine headache. She had returned to court only this morning after a similar attack forced a recess of her trial last Friday.

Testifying at the time Mrs. Mossler became ill was Arthur Grimsley, 44, a convict with a long prison record. He said Powers solicited the kidnapping of Mrs. Mossler's husband and told him: "We don't want him back, we want him killed."

Powers is on trial with Mrs. Mossler, accused of slaying the 69-year-old multimillionaire Mossler in 1964.

Grimsley testified that Powers had worked with him on a magazine sales crew in 1961. He said that on June 15, 1962, they met again in Truman, Ark., and continued.

"He related to me that he was living with a distant relative in Houston, but she was married to an old mooch. He asked me if I was interested in making some money. I said yes. He talked to me about a kidnapping. He talked about the relations he was living with."

"Did he tell you who he wanted kidnapped?" the witness was asked.

"It was the husband of this relative," Grimsley replied.

Grimsley testified that the deal did not go through because he was sent to prison shortly afterward. Behind bars about two years ago, Grimsley continued, "I accepted Christ as my personal savior and I have been studying the Bible since then."

Grimsley was the second penitentiary inmate to testify for the state during the trials of Powers and Mrs. Mossler.

SAFELY WITH 128 AS ENGINE BURNS

DALLAS (AP)—A Braniff International Airlines Boeing 720 with 128 persons aboard landed safely at Love Field Sunday after one of its jet engines burst into flames and disintegrated.

The pilot, Capt. L. T. Dutcher, said he was making a routine landing when the No. 1 engine ignited and disintegrated, scattering parts as the craft sped down the runway.

He said he turned on the plane's fire-extinguishing system and by the time ground firefighters arrived, the flames were out.

The airliner, with 121 passengers and a crew of seven, was arriving from Denver and was due to continue to Houston. The passengers were sent to their destinations on other Braniff planes.

AGENA DAMAGE Muddles Plans For Gemini 8

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP)—The "hard start" of an Agena rocket engine in a Tennessee test chamber has muddled plans for the Gemini 8 flight scheduled next month.

The engine was damaged Saturday while being test fired in an altitude chamber at the Air Force Arnold Engineering Development Center at Tullahoma, Tenn.

An Air Force spokesman said he did not know whether the problem would erase plans to use a similar Agena as a target satellite for Gemini 8 astronauts Neil Armstrong and David Scott.

Armstrong and Scott plan to attempt man's first linkup with another satellite during a three-day flight starting March 15. If the decision is made to use the Agena, the shot could be delayed.

Saturday's hard start ruptured a weld in the combustion chamber. The ignition was described as similar to an engine backfire.

Mine Kills 54 Viet Civilians

SAIGON, South Viet Nam (AP)—The Viet Cong mined three buses today, killing 54 Vietnamese civilians and wounding 18 in retaliation for an Allied operation that is rescuing a huge rice harvest.

Allied ground forces reported killing 150 Viet Cong in scattered clashes elsewhere in South Viet Nam in the past 24 hours, while U.S. planes hammered Communist targets in North and South Viet Nam. Guerrillas overran an outpost in the Mekong Delta, at Dinh Mon, and killed or captured all 11 defenders.

The death-dealing Viet Cong mines were set off on a road 10 miles southwest of Tuy Hoa, on the central coast where the U.S. 101st Airborne, South Korean marines and South Vietnamese troops have been scouring the countryside for several weeks while the rice was being harvested.

An American spokesman said the first blast was touched off about 7:30 a.m., catching a busload of farmers and killing 27 and wounding 11.

The explosion left a crater nine feet deep in the road, hurled the bus into a canal and scattered bodies along the roadside.

About an hour and a half later, the spokesman continued, a three-wheel vehicle used as a bus and jammed with passengers drove along the same

Russ Authors Sentenced For Their Writings

By FRED COLEMAN
MOSCOW (AP)—Two Russian writers were convicted today of anti-Soviet propaganda because of books they published abroad under pen names.

Andrei D. Sinyavsky was sentenced to seven years at hard labor, and Yuli M. Daniel was sentenced to five years at hard labor, Tass news agency reported.

Both men pleaded innocent, arguing that the satirical writings they published in the West under pen names were not political and therefore were not anti-Soviet propaganda.

The Soviet press said there was no question of their guilt. Sinyavsky, whose pen name was Abram Tertz, and Daniel, writing as Nikolai Arzhak, published work abroad showing brutality, corruption and degradation in Soviet life.

In their defense they contended they had exercised legitimate freedom of artistic expression. But early in the trial the judge declared: "We do not have a matter for literary dispute here but a criminal trial."

Sinyavsky is a leading Soviet literary critic. Daniel is a translator of poetry. Both men are 40.

The trial, which began Thursday, was closed to foreign newsmen.

13 Killed On Illinois Highways

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

Two persons, a patient and a nurse's aide, were killed in an ambulance accident last week-end, highlighting a period in which 13 persons died on Illinois roads and highways.

The ambulance transporting a 75-year-old man to the Downey Administration Hospital overturned in a collision near Waukegan Saturday night.

The victims were Mrs. Virginia Anderson, Kenosha, Wis., a nurse's aide, and Charles A. Miller, Skokie. Miller was being removed from the Valley Nursing Home in Skokie to Downey. Authorities said Miller died apparently of a heart attack. He also suffered a broken leg in the accident.

Offer Rewards Leading To Girl's Killer

WHEATON, Ill. (AP)—Two $500 rewards have been offered for information leading to the arrest and conviction of the person who killed 10-year-old Debbie Fijan.

The girl's fully clothed body was found Friday night in an ice-encrusted ditch in a rural area northeast of West Chicago. She had been stabbed 18 times.

One reward offer came from Stephen S. Norwick, president of the Norwick Insurance Agency in nearby Winfield. Norwick said he offered the reward Sunday because his first thought after reading of Debbie's slaying was of his seven grandchildren.

The other offer was made by members of Local 316, American Federation of Grain Millers of West Chicago. Charles Hall, lock, the group's recording secretary, said members voted the reward at their monthly meeting Sunday.

Debbie was the oldest of the five children of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Fijan of rural Du Page County.

Mrs. Fijan reported the girl missing after she failed to return home from a basketball game at the Benjamin Elementary School, where she was a fifth grader.

BELIEVE BONES ROCKFORD GIRL'S

BULLETIN
ROCKFORD, Ill. (AP)—State's Atty. William R. Nash said today that the believed bones of a child, believed to be missing 11-year-old Susan Brady, have been found in a Rockford incinerator and that a man has been seized by federal officers in San Diego, Calif.

Nash told a news conference that Russell Charles Dewey, was seized in California Sunday on a federal fugitive warrant in connection with the investigation.

The state's attorney said the bones were found in an incinerator in the home of Dewey's grandparents.

Nash said Dewey told officers in California that he had a little girl with him when he was involved in a hit and run accident and that "he disposed of the body."

Nash did not elaborate on the nature of the girl's death.

Susan Brady disappeared in Rockford on Dec. 20.

The girl last was seen four blocks from her home. She was the object of a wide search throughout the Rockford and its metropolitan area. Rewards totaling $3,000 were posted for information as to her fate.

Susan's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Brady. He is a reporter and photographer for the Rockford Labor News.

The only clew police had when the search started for the missing girl was discovery of her gray plaid scarf four blocks south from where she was last seen. This was about seven blocks from her home.

Editorial Comment

Politico-Racial Change

Few United States senators from the South have been more ardent champions of racial segregation than Sen. Herman Talmadge of Georgia. This fact gives special weight to something Senator Talmadge recently told an Atlanta Negro club.

"I don't think you will see any more race-baiting campaigns in Georgia," he said. "I think in future races all candidates are going to solicit votes of all Georgia citizens."

These remarks signify recognition of a salient change that is being felt, in varying degree, throughout the South. Despite all efforts to the contrary, Southern Negroes are registering and voting in ever greater numbers. They have thus become a factor that practical politicians would be rash to disregard.

Further evidence that they are not disregarding it can be seen in the Alabama state Democratic executive committee's recent vote to quit using "White Supremacy" as the party's slogan on the Alabama ballot. As the resolution's author put it, the Alabama Democrats "cannot afford to take a stick and run off a prospective 150,000 to 175,000 who might support the Democratic ticket." This was a reference to the civil rights forces, especially the Negroes.

Another case in point is to be found in Arkansas. In 1957 that state's Gov. Orval E. Faubus called out the National Guard to keep Negro students from entering the Little Rock high school. His speeches at the time were full of anti-Negro abuse, much of it directed at L. C. Bates, who headed the Little Rock integration forces. Now Bates is Faubus' chief adviser on the Negroes whom the governor is appointing to office. The South's racial-political picture is changing, and smart politicians are adapting to the changes.

Let's Not Have Another Round

Three-point-two remains the administration's magic number for keeping inflation at bay.

According to the President's Council of Economic Advisors, 3.2 per cent represents, with a little juggling, the nation's annual increase in productivity. Thus wage and price boosts are permissible and noninflationary only if they do not exceed this limit — a formula that has been more honored in the breach than in the observance. As someone has pointed out, 3.2 per cent is also the alcoholic content of nonintoxicating beer.

There is no connection between the two, of course, but it is interesting to observe that it is becoming as difficult for the country to maintain a sober stance on 3.2 economics as it is for many people to keep from getting high on 3.2 booze.

Dear Ann:

Raps Far-Out Fa shions, Hair-Dos

By ANN LANDERS

Dear Ann Landers: Millions of people read you daily and your impact on our society is tremendous. Please, please appeal to American women NOT to let fashion designers make them look cheap and hideous in above-the-knee skirts. It's shocking that women flock like sheep to imitate the models with no thought of whether the style is becoming or even decent.

A foremost Italian designer (one of the same ones) said, "Short skirts are neither flattering, lady-like, nor chic. The same can be said of skirts that are too long, too short or too anything. They are wrong because they are out of proportion."

Please, Ann, do what you can to fight foolish fashions. And say something about the nutty hair styles, too. Thank you.—ANN FAN FOREVER

Dear Forever: Thank you. I've been waiting for a chance to zero in on far-out fashions, hair-dos and the whole ugly bit.

I have long suspected that some dress designers and hair stylists hate women and have a conscious or subconscious desire to make them look grotesque. (This is why my favorite dress designers are women.)

The Sassoon little-boy haircut, the bony knees on display, exposed navels and white lipstick may all be part of a conspiracy.

Dear Ann Landers: We live in sunny Florida. Before you say, "That's nice," let me tell you about our problem.

My husband and I have learned to live on a limited income and it hasn't been easy. We could make it all right if winter visitors would leave us alone.

My husband's widowed aunt comes down here every year for one month. Yes, four weeks... 31 days. We have never invited her. She lets us know when to meet her at the airport and that's that. Since we only have one bedroom she rents a room from the people next door. But she is on and off for three meals a day and she sits with us every evening until bedtime.

On Sunday auntie takes us to her favorite restaurant for dinner, which is no treat. We could eat better at home. Is there a diplomatic way to get out of this corner? My patience is getting shorter every year.—ANNUAL SUCKERS

Dear Annual: There's a way—but why must it be diplomatic? Your husband's aunt isn't exactly in line for an ambassadorship.

When auntie writes, suggest that she rent a room several blocks from you so she can meet new people and meet some interesting new friends. Explain that you'd like to have her for dinner "when you are up to it" but you aren't able to have her for 20 meals a week.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of this newspaper enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

A Feat We Can't Quite Understand!

Washington North Viet Nam Bombing Vital to Hamstringing Reds

By BRUCE BLOSSAT

Washington Correspondent

Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

WASHINGTON (NEA) — The

Johnson administration is growing more militant in its justifications

for the resumed bombing of North Viet Nam.

That bombing, which appears now to be heading toward higher levels than prevailed before the 37-day pause, is seen by

White House sources as having three principal military aims:

—The retarding or prevention of a Communist build-up of men and materiel in South Viet Nam beyond present force levels.

—The blocking of the flow of sufficient additional North Vietnamese supplies to assure that the Reds, with present forces, will be unable to maintain a consistent tempo of attacks and will thus steadily lose vital war momentum.

These fresh military assessments of the bombing purpose have impressed the President.

His reliance upon them is consistent with his enduring judgment that Hanoi and the Viet Cong must be robbed of the notion they can win the war before serious prospect of peace negotiations can develop.

Obviously, nothing in the military assessments suggests a belief that even heavier and heavier interdiction of North Vietnamese supply routes will cut off all outside support to the Viet Cong and the North Vietnamese regulars operating within South Viet Nam.

Nevertheless, White House

sources are consciously endeavoring to counter the widely circulated idea that the 11 months of bombing prior to the pause accomplished little or nothing.

The military has told the President that at the peak of the bombing before the pause

there was no daytime rail or highway movement in two-thirds of North Viet Nam.

The Pentagon estimates that more than half of the country's rail and highway bridges, three-fourths of its presumably modest capacity to manufacture explosives, 40 per cent of its ammunition storage.

The official view is that this destruction had important effects, both directly and indirectly, on Hanoi's war effort.

It is estimated that, at peak bombing level, our air activity compels the diversion of some 150,000 North Vietnamese people from war industries and other economic effort to the endless tasks of repair and rehabilitation.

More directly, the bombing is seen as having already materially diminished the Reds' fighting tempo in South Viet Nam. Any prolonged pause is judged simply as affording them a critical opportunity to recover lost mo-

There is little evidence the President ever believed the bombing pause would bring Hanoi to the conference table. The conviction in the White House is that the Reds and their allies harsh on the "wickedness" of the bombing because it really hurts them.

It is argued that if a suspenmade permanent, the next great cry would be for an end to U.S.

bombing in South Viet Nam.

WASHINGTON (AP) — With

the speed and unanimity of crisis,

Congress voted President

Johnson its endorsement of "all necessary measures" to bar aggression in South Viet Nam.

And now, 18 months later, it is debating the wisdom of a vastly increased U.S. commitment

there.

One Democratic senator has described the current Foreign Relations Committee hearings

"We are going over the head of the President to the Ameri-

cism, most of it from Democrats, Johnson has declared his decisions on Viet Nam, including that to renew bombing of the North, are guided by a resolution Congress adopted Aug. 7,

ISAAC NEWTON DISCOVERS MERCURY!

"If Sir Isaac had had a car like this, he would have been too busy having fun to discover gravity," says Delaware insurance executive.

Isaac B. Newton, 52, of Milford, Del., didn't believe such a car existed before he drove the new Mercury.

Here's what he said about some of the discoveries he made, after looking over the full line:

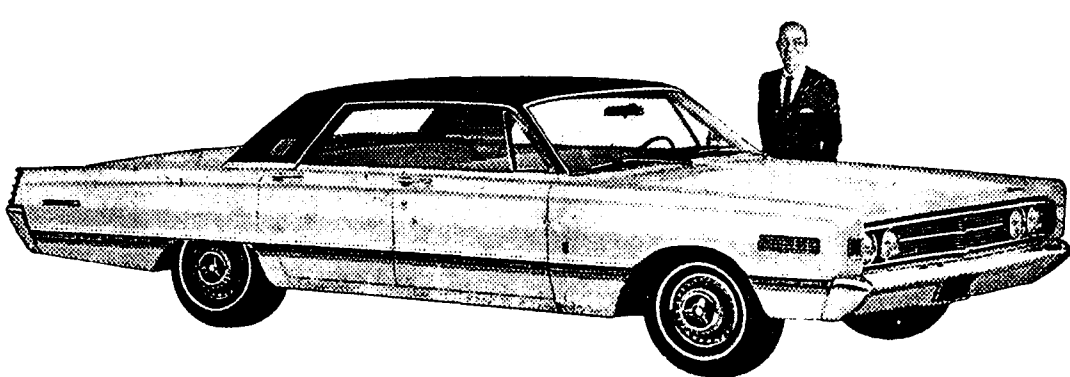

About the power steering*, he said: "Drives with such little effort and so stable on the road! Made parking a cinch."

About the 410-cu.-in. 4-barrel V-8 power plant: "So quiet! Can't hear it at all. That pick-up's really terrific!"

He summed up: "Mercury's my choice after that ride!"

And what did Mrs. Newton discover? "Living room comfort! And the lines of the car are so beautiful."

HAS TIME RE-WITTEN YOUR WILL?

Has it been a long time since you reviewed your will? If so, time may have re-written it for you. Your children grow up and marry... maybe there are grandchildren for whom you have made no provision. Time changes your financial status, earning capacity, and your projections and planning for the future. Taxes and laws change with the passing of time, and these can be costly changes if your will isn't drafted to take them into account. This is a good time to see your attorney and make sure your will still expresses your wishes. Our experienced trust officers can also be of help in advising you on the financial aspects of your planning. Come in or call for an appointment. It is most helpful if we can meet with both you and your attorney. There is never any obligation, of course.

The unlucky expert will star in this week's columns. If you play bridge at all you will know one of his prototypes—the man who never makes a mistake but always loses.

Sometimes he is really unlucky, as with today's hand. Other times he helps out his own bad luck by making things difficult for his partner but, somehow or other, something bad always happens to him. Here is his story for today:

"Things were going pretty well. I had won on rubber and with both sides vulnerable in the second I picked up a nice hand. Nothing sensational, but a comfortable 13 high-card points plus a couple of tens. When my partner responded to my diamond opening with one heart, then jumped to three clubs, I bid a confident three no-trump and was only slightly disturbed when he took out to four clubs. This forced me to try four hearts. He jumped to six and I still wasn't really unhappy. My hand was certainly sound."

We looked over the hand and remarked that six hearts seemed rather safe.

"Not the way my partner played it. He won the spade opening and promptly cashed the ace and king of clubs. The queen dropped and he smiled sweetly and spread his hand, announcing that he would play trumps and the defense could take their ace when ready."

"Play," said West. My partner led a trump toward my jack and returned to his king. West took the ace and gave his partner a club ruff. Down one."

Our friend really was unlucky. South would have ruffed a third club and made the hand if the queen had not dropped. He should have ruffed it anyway. This would have insured his contract.

A—Pass. You only have six points and your suits aren't good enough to warrant bidding at the two level.

TODAY'S QUESTION

You pass. Fourth hand bids two hearts. Your partner bids two spades and the man who has doubled goes to three hearts. What do you do now?

Polly's Pointers Painting Plastic Geraniums

By POLLY CRAMER
Newspaper Enterprise Assn.

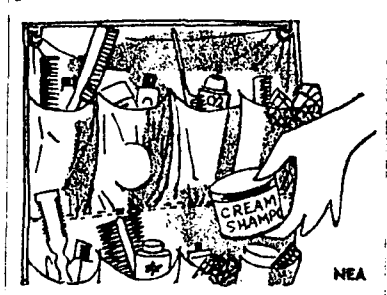

DEAR POLLY—I, too, had the same disappointing problems as Ethel. My plastic geraniums faded. I bought a can of spray paint that is sold for cloth, paper, metal, plastic and so on. Before spraying the geraniums, I protected them by taking a cardboard from a shirt that was done at the laundry. I slit it from one side to the middle and then made a small circle that would go around a flower stem. This makes a shield for the leaves and stems when each flower is being sprayed.

I did this out-of-doors and put the plant in a large empty carton so that the spray paint would not get on anything else. While the plastic does get a bit brittle the flowers can be used for at least another season. —MRS. K.

DEAR POLLY—I solved the faded plastic geranium problem by first washing the flowers with warm sudsy water. I let them dry thoroughly and then used nail polish to paint the petals. Use the polish brush and give the flowers two coats for a beautiful shine, which looks almost better than new. The sun has not faded them. I hope this helps Ethel as the many helpful hints certainly lighten my chores even though I have been keeping house for 45 years. —MRS. A. J. M.

ARTIFICIAL FLOWER LOVERS—A friend of mine says she thins out old nail polish for this purpose and does not completely cover each petal but likes the effect when they are tipped or just touched up enough to give a fresh and gayer appearance. —POLLY

DEAR POLLY—We are a large family and keeping track of combs and brushes used to present a real problem. I bought a cloth shoe bag and pinned up the bottom row of "shoe slots" to make it shorter. This left eight spaces for brushes, combs, hair cream and other such small items needed for the care of the hair. It is fastened to the back of the bathroom door so everyone can reach it. —M. D.

DEAR POLLY—Time and steps can be saved if one mends as the ironing is being done. When the ironing is finished, the mending is finished. Make an ironing board pocket, 11x7 inches, out of cloth or plastic. Bind with bias tape and attach to the ironing board. Into the pocket put thread, scissors, buttons, snaps, iron-on tape, pressing cloth and so on. —CECILE

In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS

AP Movie-Television Writer
HOLLYWOOD (AP)—Just about everybody's Valentine this year is Dorothy Malone, the plucky Texan whose heart stopped, then was revived, during an 11-hour lung operation last September.

The actress now is working three full days each week on "Peyton Place," more than her schedule before her illness—and enjoying it.

"I do get tired," she admitted. "And when I go out in the evening, they are very short dates. I usually go to bed at the same time as my daughters. I haven't even watched 'Peyton Place' since I've been back on the show; I'm asleep by then!"

Miss Malone looks wan, but beautiful as ever. Not only did she lose 10 pounds during the illness; she dropped another 10 since through lack of appetite. "I just regained my interest in food last week," she reported.

Now she feels strong enough to attend to some unfinished business: answering the thousands of get-well messages that came to her in the hospital.

"I may take years to do it, but I'm determined to answer all the letters," she remarked.

"The stacks of mail that filled my back bathroom are beginning to diminish, but I've still got a long way to go. Now I'm starting to get thank-you notes for my thank-you notes. I'm afraid those will have to remain unanswered."

Miss Malone was stricken Sept. 22 with back pains. By evening she was near collapse and she was rushed to Cedars of Lebanon Hospital, where her illness was diagnosed as blood clots in her lungs. Prompt action by a team of surgeons and use of a new heart-lung machine saved her life.

Unlike some series stars, Miss Malone is content with her lot. She is, in fact, one of the biggest boosters of "Peyton Place."

"We have succeeded where imitations have failed because of quality," she argued. "Our shows are filmed with all the care and production value of a feature movie. The sets are impressive, the stories are good, and everyone is well cast; there are good performers on the show."

She has followed with interest the various rumors about the series: That it will reduce to twice-weekly next season, that it will be filmed in color.

"I haven't talked to the studio about cutting down from three a week, but I think it might make sense," she said. "Two shows a week would provide a better rhythm and make the production details more manageable."

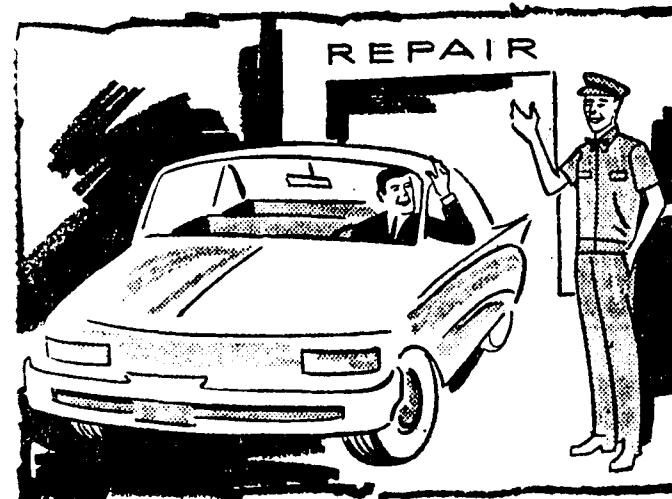

"I have suggested that we film in color, and I hope we do. Our sets would photograph beautifully, and we could use color to compete with the new shows next year."

It could be added that Dorothy's tawny hair and bright-blue eyes would enhance the show as well.

"constitutionalists" fought for survival of their ideals.

Although the old military checkpoints have disappeared, it is difficult and probably more dangerous to get into the central sector these days. Roving bands of teen-agers; throw rocks at almost every passing vehicle.

Snipers fire with apparently less concentration on specific targets and stray bullets are the norm, not the exception.

For this reason, traffic into the center of town is at a mini-mum. Foreigners, particularly Americans and especially news-men, are not welcome. How-ever, the Americans are repre-sented right in the middle of it all by a company of 82nd Air-borne paratroopers.

"It gets pretty lonely in here, even at noon," said Lt. John Counts, 24, of Denver, Colo.

"We keep our boys moving about just so the snipers won't get used to seeing them in one place too often," he said.

The Americans are under or-ders not to fire without specific orders.

The Viet Nam hearings of the Senate Foreign Relations Com-mittee continued to provoke congressional comment and criticism.

Sen. Hugh Scott R-Pa., ac-cused committee chairman J.W. Fulbright, D-Ark., of being ir-re-sponsible — by Fulbright's own standards — in criticizing the President's policies in Viet Nam.

Three years ago, Scott said, Fulbright said "it was irrespon-sible to criticize the administra-tion, and he accused me of all the things he is doing now."

"I am not one of those people who advises that we stop and halt and allow ourselves to be beaten to death," Scott said, "and I'm not one of those crit-icizing the President. Sen Ful-bright is."

threatened kingdom into an al-liance. He did this by paying tribute to Souvanna Phouma's efforts to secure the independ-ence and neutrality of Laos.

But it was to economic bet-terment that Humphrey devoted the bulk of his talk, saying:

"Here in the great unhar-nessed natural wealth of the Mekong River Valley we can see not only the potential for the future prosperity and peace of the nations on its banks but also the source of a vastly ex-panded supply of food for other nations of the world."

After lunch with Souvanna Phouma, Humphrey was due to board a helicopter for an inspec-tion of an "accelerated rural development project" in north-east Thailand.

Then he arranged to return to Bangkok surveying six more projects from the air on the way.

Before leaving for Laos, Hum-phrey sandwiched in an early morning cruise along Bangkok's canals. Wearing an open-necked polo shirt, the vice president waved and hailed Thais passing in boats, took pictures with a small box camera and at the floating market bought a farm-er's spreading straw hat which he donned in place of his base-ball cap.

At another bazaar stop he bought a souvenir spoon for his wife and a pair of lighting ele-phants carved in teakwood for Senate Minority Leader Everett Dirksen of Illinois.

"That's the way I like to see the Republicans," Humphrey said with a laugh as he held up the battling beasts.

Humphrey had his boat turned to shore when he spotted about 100 Thai boys and girls in a schoolyard along the canal. The children didn't know who he was but they clapped wildly when their principal told them in Thai.

Humphrey told them he brought "the warm greetings of the children of the United States."

He stood surrounded by up-turned faces, teaching them to say "a-okay" and "goodby."

One girl sang a Thai folk song and Humphrey kissed her on the cheek resoundingly.

An hour and a half later a second three-wheel bus drove onto the scene and set off a third mine. This time seven per-sons were reported killed.

Patrols found new Viet Cong hideouts today, including aban-doned tunnels and fortifications. A battalion-sized camp was dis-covered near where the farmers were blasted. A spokesman said it contained about 40,000 rounds of small-arms ammunition and had been deserted for about a week when the paratroopers converged on that district.

Some 50 miles southwest of Saigon, the Viet Cong early to-day attacked an outpost in Dinh Tuong Province manned by about 240 government militi-men. Planes and artillery final-ly drove the guerrillas back, killing five, a Vietnamese mili-tary spokesman said. Govern-ment losses were described as light.

Navy pilots claimed destruc-tion of 10 warehouses in a mili-tary complex near Vinh. They also said they raided three high-way bridges, two railroad spans, gun installations and a radar site in the Vinh sector.

U.S. Air Force, Marine and Navy pilots hit Viet Cong areas in South Viet Nam Sunday and early today with a total of 338 sorties which a spokesman said destroyed 530 buildings and damaged another 360, sank 16 sampans and killed an estimat-ed 70 Viet Cong, according to reports from spotter planes.

Vincente Borrego Jr., 33, Ar-lington Heights, was struck by two cars and killed Sunday night as he attempted to cross a street near Mount Prospect. Police said one car hit Borrego and hurled him into the path of another car.

Pennel's Record Indoor Vault Games Highlight

LOS ANGELES (AP) — A world record of 16 feet, 10 in-ches by pole-vaulter John Pennel went into the record book today, along with an upset finish in the featured two-mile run as an after-math of the Los Angeles Times Indoor Games.

Many of the world famous track and field athletes headed to the next big event on the win-ter indoor circuit, the New York Athletic Club meet Saturday night in Madison Square Gar-den.

Pennel supplied the world record last Saturday night be-fore 13,477 fans when he bet-tered his own indoor mark of 16-9½, made here last Jan. 22. Pennel still hopes to become the first man to hit 17 feet in-doors, just as he was the first to achieve the height outdoors.

"I feel that 17 feet is not far off for me indoors," said Pen-nel, adding, "I am shooting for 17-5 outdoors this summer."

Pennel, representing the Southern California Striders, failed in three attempts at 17-½. Bill Bailie, the slope-shoul-dered 31-year-old distance run-ner from New Zealand, was the surprise winner in the featured two-mile race.

Beats Out Clarke He put on an unexpected burst of speed in the final three laps to beat out Australia's Ron Clarke, while well back in fifth place was Kenya's hero, Kip-choge Keino.

Bailie's time was 8:37.4; Clarke's 8:38.4 and Keino got in at 8:40.7.

Third and fourth places went to Bob Day of UCLA and Viktor Kudinskiy of Russia.

Keino, limping from a pulled muscle, said he would return to Kenya today but wants to run again in Southern California meets this summer. He seemed in doubt about coming back to America for the National Am-ateur Athletic Union meet in Al-buquerque May 4.

Jim Grelle of Portland, Ore., won the mile in 4:03.1 with his usual last-lap kick.

John Camlen of Kansas State Teachers was second in 4:04.4, followed in turn by John Davies of New Zealand, Basil Clifford of Ireland and Rick Rieley, the high school runner from Spo-rans, Wash.

TRADE VERY SLOW IN GRAIN FUTURES

CHICAGO (AP) — Trade was very slow in the grain futures market today and prices of most contracts held within mini-mum changes from Friday's closes.

Brokers said speculators showed very little interest in the trade and stood aside awaiting development of new market fac-tors. Export business over the weekend was described as neg-ligible and commercial business otherwise was dull.

There was a little scattered support for new crop soybean contracts which dealers said ap-arently was linked with a be-lief that this year's production might not be up to requirements without almost ideal growing conditions.

Benton's Best Now Not Football Team

(Following is first in a series on outstanding Illinois high school basketball teams)

By Bob Tedrow
Benton Evening News
BENTON, Ill. (AP)—On a recent Friday afternoon, the thermometer read eight degrees above zero in Benton, a town in the southern end of Illinois where it seldom gets that cold. But the frigid air had no effect on the basketball fans who had already gathered outside the doors of the Benton high school gymnasium to make their bids for the precious 500 general admission tickets for the Benton-Marion basketball game, still hours away.

The other 700 seats in the gymnasium are sold on a year-long reserved basis, and there's a long waiting list for any vacancies.

It's been that way all season long in the Franklin County community long known as the "football town" in basketball-mad Southern Illinois.

Benton has one of the finest football stadiums in downstate Illinois, and usually produces a team to match. But it's tiny basketball gymnasium seats only 1,300—and that capacity was more than ample until just a few years ago.

This Edition Tops
Rarely a winner in basketball from the 1930s until this decade, Benton has climaxed its rise in that sport with this year's edition of the Rangers, who so far have done nothing but win, and usually in a big way.

A mixture of farm and town boys whose talents have meshed together under the guidance of coach Richard Herrin, the Rangers really don't look to be the number one rated team in Illinois when they first run out on the floor.

The coach of a losing opponent this season dubbed them "four splinters and a barrel" because four are just plain thin and the fifth is short and stocky.

But when they begin zipping the ball around until it plops in the basket and their full court press defense begins harrying opposing ball handlers into mis-cues, the rating becomes easier to understand.

All Players Quick
They're quick—even their two tall boys, 6-7 Richard Yunkus and 6-4 Jim Adkins play major roles in the press defense.

They can score—averaging 75 points a game with Adkins and Yunkus each scoring more than 20 a game while 6-0 David Woodland and 5-11 Kenny Payne average in double figures, and ball handler Terry Heard (the "barrel") is shooting better than .500 from the field.

They're smart—in 3½ years of high school, Heard has a record card containing nothing but As and Woodland is a semi-finalist in the Illinois State Scholarship program.

Perhaps, however, the real reason for the Ranger success story is their defensive work.

So far this season they have held their opponents to an average of 55 points a game, exactly 20 less than their own.

Pride In Defense
The five starters, plus the two top reserves, Jerry Hoover and Bill Lowery, take real pride in the defensive phase of the game and possibly work harder on it than they do offense.

The road to Champaign is rough, and no one knows better than the Rangers and coach Herrin, who has taken Benton to four regional titles and one trip to the quarter-finals in the state tournament in his five years here.

Before the season opened Herrin and the players met and set three goals. One was to win the strong Centralia Holiday tournament.

The second was to win the South Seven Conference title, which they have not done previously in the 27 year history of the league.

And the third was to represent the deep south in the state tournament.

They have fulfilled the first ambition, and the second appears certain. The third... well, they want to get that second one out of the way first.

Auerbach Growing Soft In Last Year?

BOSTON (AP)—Arnold (Red) Auerbach, the most successful pro basketball coach in history, is stepping out as boss of the Boston Celtics with regret and the admission he isn't quite as tough as he appears.

The fiery Auerbach, graying and balding at the age of 48, shed a couple of tears Sunday as he was hailed and showered with gifts at halftime of the Celtics' 120-110 National Basketball Association loss to Los Angeles. A Boston Garden crowd of 10,679 and a national television audience watched the festivities.

"This is just making it tougher to retire," said Auerbach, who plans to move into the Celtics' front office on a full-time basis after this season. "But I'm going to retire. I have to."

Auerbach was rather quiet in the first half as the Celtics rallied to trail only 63-59 at the intermission. After the emotion-packed salute, though, he became his old self, drawing a technical foul for protesting an official's call.

Technical Old Stuff
But technicals are old stuff to Auerbach, who already has paid nearly $1,000 in fines this year. His outbursts in support of his players have been widely reported in his 20 seasons as an

NBA coach.

After the game Auerbach managed smiles and talked softly with writers as he puffed on a cigar in the crowded dressing room. This was a "new" Auerbach. The "old" rarely managed a weak grin and a couple of words after a defeat.

"They say that losing comes easier as you grow older," Auerbach said. "But losing keeps getting harder for me. I just can't take it like I used to. It's time for me to step out—but I want one more championship this year."

Auerbach, hailed as "the greatest" coach in basketball history, received a silver tray, a captain's chair, 22 plaques featuring highlights of his 16 years with the Celtics, a lighter for his cigars, a silver cigar box, and portraits of himself, his wife and two daughters.

He also received the basketball of his 1,000th NBA victory, an unprecedented milestone reached last month, and a wrist watch with "1,000" on the dial.

The basketball was the one awarded him after the Celtics defeated Los Angeles on Jan. 12 for No. 1,000. It was bronzed and mounted by the club owners, Jack Waldron and Marvin Kratter.

With 45,000 season tickets already sold at Atlanta and new coach Norm Hecker anxious to come up with a representative team, there may be some surprising names on the lists of available players.

The owners must decide how many of their 40-man rosters to exempt or freeze. It is expected they will keep 30 or 32 out of the draft. That would give Atlanta three picks from the bottom eight or ten players on each team.

After they have agreed on a formula, probably Tuesday, The actual selections will be made Wednesday.

The Falcons have a strong base of rookies for they participated in the draft last November and signed 20 players.

The drafted and signed included linebacker Tommy Nobis, Texas' All-American, Randy Johnson, Texas A&I quarter-back, and halfbacks Nick Raskas and Bill Wolski and end Phil Sheridan of Notre Dame.

The important action Tuesday is off the court and on the conference table. That's the deadline for the Ivy League—and others—to file certification that they will abide by a controversial NCAA rule establishing a grade minimum for athletes.

The Ivies have announced they won't do it. And the NCAA has said that if they don't, they are ineligible for NCAA championship events—including the basketball tournament.

Just what will happen to the Ivy just in the NCAA tournament is still open to question—whether it will be filled by an at-large team, or whether it won't be filled at all.

Games In Spotlight
But while the athletic brass wrestle with that administrative problem, solutions of a more basic nature will be forged on a number of courts tonight.

"I almost called it quits after the second hole," said Dickinson, a 38-year-old, 190-pounder who plays out of Lost Tree Village, Fla.

"I took three pain killers before the round," he said. "The pain subsided a little, but the pills upset my stomach. I was very satisfied with the round under the circumstances."

Regardless of his fate in today's final round, Dickinson plans to leave the tour to have his back checked. "I can't go on like this, that's for sure," he said. "I'll just have to quit until the back is fixed."

Dickinson has carved out rounds of 66-69-71 over the 6,765-yard Phoenix Country Club course, a par 36-35-71 layout which most of the pros haven't solved.

Holds Off Challengers
Dickinson's steady round Sunday—a birdie and two bogeys on the front nine and a birdie on the back—without challenges by Rosburg and several others.

Mason Rudolph came the closest, drawing to within one stroke after Dickinson's bogeys on eight and nine. But Rudolph double bogeyed the par 3 13th and triple bogeyed the par 4 17th and finished with a 73 for 212.

Gene Littler came within two strokes but fell back to four at the end of the round. Littler lost a stroke when his caddy inadvertently stepped on his ball on the 16th fairway.

Littler was tied at 210 with Doug Sanders. Both have had identical rounds of 70-71-69.

Jack Ruel stood alone at 211, and Dudley Wysong and Charles Coody were tied with Rudolph at 212.

Arnold Palmer, who has cooled off a bit from his torrid start on the winter tour, was 11 strokes off the pace going into today's final round. He has had rounds of 71-74-72.

The best scores Sunday were 67s by Terry Dill and Kermit Zarley. Dill and Dick Crawford were tied at 213, and Zarley was one of four players grouped at 215.

NFL Owners Tackle Problem Of Stocking

PALM BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The expansion-minded world of professional sports will have its chance of being sidetracked.

Less than two weeks ago, Illinois went to Michigan and handed the Wolverines a shocking and unexpected defeat, indicating the Wolverines might have been overrated even with All-American Cazzie Russell leading the attack.

But Michigan bounced back. The Wolverines went to Indiana and hammered the Hoosiers 93-76 and returned home Saturday to pound Wisconsin, 120-102, and set three team scoring records in the process.

Earlier in the season, Michigan escaped from the clutches of the same Wisconsin team with a 66-67 victory.

While the Wolverines were rebounding, Illinois went home to make a run for the title. The Illini barely edged Ohio State and then fell flat before Northwestern and Indiana.

Indiana's 81-77 triumph Saturday all but eliminated Illinois from championship consideration.

Spartans Off Pace
Illinois wasn't the only team unable to keep pace with Michigan. Rival Michigan State was dropped from a first place tie when the Spartans were roughed up at Minnesota 81-71. Northwestern defeated Iowa 81-73 and

All are afternoon games.

Michigan State's chances are sound if the Spartans can avert defeat at Wisconsin Saturday. After that, the schedule softens and winds up at East Lansing against Michigan. It could be the game for the championship if Michigan State remains in the running that long.

Michigan's only tough game until the finale at Michigan State is its meeting with the Hawkeyes at Iowa Feb. 21. If Michigan wins at Iowa, the title might well be decided before the finale at Michigan State.

This week's Big Ten schedule is light until Saturday when a full round will be played. In addition to the Minnesota-Iowa game Tuesday night, Ohio State will be at Indiana Monday night.

Saturday's schedule finds Iowa at Ohio State in a regionally televised game, Michigan State at Wisconsin, Minnesota at Illinois, Northwestern at Indiana and Purdue at Michigan.

Michigan Showing Signs Of Champion

Business Mirror

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst
NEW YORK (AP) — As the business boom rounds out its fifth year the demand for loans is rising and with it the pressure for still higher interest rates.
 Many in the banking field feel that another hike in the cost of borrowing isn't too far off. Involved would be consumers, business firms, buyers of new homes.
 Put the other way around, rewards for savers and returns to lenders would be rising further. This runs all the way from the interest payments on U. S. savings bonds and bank savings accounts to the yield enjoyed by suppliers of funds for mortgages or for business expansion.
 The administration is expected to oppose this, or to delay it as long as possible. It prefers money to be plentiful and fairly cheap to keep the economy expanding through a sixth straight year.
 Some banks already are raising again the interest they will pay on large deposits tied up for six months or more.
 On the other side of the coin, the Federal Housing Administration has just raised the interest charged on mortgages it insures. Formerly this cost 5 1/2 per cent. Now it costs 5 3/4 per cent. Lenders of conventional mortgages unbacked by the FHA get an average of 6 per cent. The building industry is debating whether interest increases all along the line are in prospect.
 Banks borrowing from the Federal Reserve have been paying 4 1/2 per cent since early December, when the cost went up by 1/2 per cent. Dr. Roy L. Reiser, senior vice president, Bankers Trust Company, New York, predicts this soon will be raised still higher. Other bankers express the same belief privately.
 The increase in the discount rate in December brought a rebate from Washington but was quickly followed by an identical 1/2 per cent rise in the prime rate charged by the banks to their largest customers with the best credit rating. It is now 5 per cent. Dr. Reiser thinks it will go up again. That would mean that the great volume of bank loans, always higher than the prime rate, will be more costly, too.

 The Federal Reserve since December has allowed banks to charge 5 1/2 per cent on time deposits, but only 4 per cent on regular savings accounts. Few banks will pay that much on time deposits yet, but several have raised their interest rates close to it.
 The reason banks and other lenders are willing to pay savers more these days is that the demand for loans has risen so high — and the interest that can be earned on bank loans has gone up so much, too — that

Best Brains Often Come In Small Economy Size

By HAL BOYLE
NEW YORK (AP) — One of the secret ambitions of many employees is to work for a big get.
 They would give him total devotion.
 They are weary of working for tall people.
 It would be fun for them as a change to look down on the boss — rather than up — while he tediously explains why they don't have the merit to merit a merit raise.
 It is a foible of the business world that there is a connection between a man's attitude and the quality of his brains.
 The thought seems to be that the higher a man stands the smarter he is. The executive should loom above the crowd. This is supposed to build morale and improve leadership.
 Actually it doesn't.
 Height is no proof of brains. Witness the dinosaur, the tallest creature to stride the earth. It died in swamps.
 Every inch above 6 feet may help a basketball player, but life is not a basketball game. The majority of mankind's memorable leaders have stood between 5 feet 7 and 5 feet 10 inches.
 Example: Winston Churchill, perhaps the greatest man of the 20th century, was almost nearer 6 feet around than 6 feet tall.
 Other disturbers of the commonplace, such as Napoleon Bonaparte, Julius Caesar and Voltaire, were of medium height or below. So was Einstein.
 If you will go to a board meeting of many a gigantic corporation, you will find it inhabited by tall men. Then an agile, squirrelly little fellow, chunky as a tree stump, comes in — and all those big fellows haul themselves to their feet and salute him.
 Snap, snap snap! He gets things done.
 Tall men often are like Christmas packages. The wrapping is worth more than the contents. The best brains don't come in the large economy size. More often they come in the small economy size.
 Not all Arabs live in tents. That is true only of the estimated 78 per cent of the population who are Bedouins.
